George Dong – Computer Science, Digital Media and Graphic Design Teacher

George obtained his BEng in metallurgy and materials, MSc in computer science, MA in education, PGCE in ICT. For over 20 years he has been working in state school education with a recent brief experience of international school teaching. He strongly believes that every student is capable, is an asset to the community and they just need the right scaffolding to start shining.
Apart from teaching computer science with a passion on software development, he spends much of his spare time coding apps. He enjoys witnessing students applying their learning to solving problems, real or realistic, providing a helpful hand when he is needed.
The impressive facilities at LDE UTC will provide an excellent platform for learners and teachers to be creative!
