

Kenan Drugzani

Vice Principal – Post 16 Provision

Kenan moved to the UK in 2009 and has successfully worked in various management and leadership roles across secondary school settings. He has lead whole-school initiatives on school data, behaviour, attitude to learning, curriculum, careers education, school-industry links and end destinations.

Kenan joined LDE UTC in January 2018 as an Assistant Principal leading on “behaviour and attitudes”. He has successfully led this provision for over five years and been commended on LDE UTC Ofsted reports in Oct 2018 and March 2022. Currently, he leads on Post 16 Provision with focus achievement and attainment.

Kenan completed his undergraduate studies in Biochemistry at Saint Cloud State University, Minnesota, USA. Aspiring to further impact student learning and outcomes, Kenan has continued to professionally develop himself by completing an MA in Education Leadership (2016), NPQSL (2018) with the IOE/UCL, NPQH (2023) with Ambition Institute. In addition, he currently is studying with University of Buckingham on becoming a Doctor of Education.

Kenan has great interest in monitoring and evaluation of pastoral standards across the college including the achievement and progress of all learners. His primary focus is closing gaps between all learner groups and providing strategic oversight of post 16 provision.

Originally Kenan is from Kosovo; therefore, he speaks and writes fluently in Kosovan/Albanian. He enjoys playing table tennis.
