

Head of School, UT6 - London Design & Engineering UTC

Victoria is an experienced senior leader with over 20 years in education, including 14 years as a Deputy Head. As Head of School at UT6, she leads with a clear strategic vision, ensuring the college delivers high-quality, inclusive education that empowers learners to thrive in a fast-paced, technology-driven world.

She holds a degree in Mathematics from King's College London, an MSc in Educational Leadership and Management, and is a Chartered Manager Fellow (CMgr FCMI). Her role spans the full breadth of college leadership—from developing and implementing the strategic plan and overseeing, quality of education, to leading safeguarding, curriculum innovation, and staff development.

Victoria works closely with governors and trust leaders to raise standards, manage resources effectively, and deliver sustained school improvement. She is committed to maintaining a safe, respectful, and ambitious environment for all learners and staff. A firm believer in the importance of employer engagement throughout the curriculum, she ensures that learning remains relevant, aspirational, and aligned with real-world opportunities.

Victoria is proud to serve as Head of School at UT6, where innovation, industry partnerships, and educational excellence come together to create a truly unique sixth form experience.
